

American Blazer Horse registration requirements.

- *Every American Blazer Horse has to have a documented pedigree back to Little Blaze F1.
 - *A gentle and willing disposition
 - *Standing 13 - 15 hands at maturity
 - *A refined head with bold eyes that set well out on the corners of the head
 - *Extreme sloped shoulders
 - *A short back to carry weight
 - *A long hip for more power
 - *Good flat bones with strong legs medium-length pasterns
 - *Solid colored with no albino, pinto or appaloosa characteristics
 - *No blue or white eyed horse are register-able
 - *No white markings above the knee except on face (excluding scars and brands)
 - *No skeletal defects that affect performance that can be passed on to offspring
- Horses are usually registered as a weanling, any horse that does not meet the height requirement at maturity, either under 13 hands or over 15 hands, the owners must surrender their papers and they will be revoked. You can still breed the horse and if their offspring meets the requirements, their offspring can be registered.

What can American Blazer Horses Do?

Just about anything you take the time to train them for.

Ranch work
Trail or pleasure riding
Dressage
Distance Racing
Reining
Cow cutting
4-H events
Gymkhanas
Extreme Trail Sports
Therapy horses
Driving or Pulling
English or Western
Packing-hunting
Great family horses
Etc.

Blazer Horses are very athletic, versatile, honest, gentle and willing, built for years of riding enjoyment

The most prized attribute of the Blazer Horse is the gentle and willing disposition. They are kind and often are quickly accepted as a member of the family not just another horse.

When one Blazer owner was asked "how can your little Blazer Horse carry 200 lbs of rider and gear into a National Reined Cow Horse competition and score in the 70's?" Her reply was simple. "He may only weigh 762 lbs, but 761 of that is pure heart."

A reminder of the American West

Blazer Horses are the perfect all-around western horse and a great addition to any family. Their streamlined size, great conformation, gentle disposition and proven performance make them a phenomenal horse no matter what kind of riding you plan on doing.

Blazer Horse Creed

- We believe that the world is better with American Blazer Horses in it.
- We believe that horses ought to be gentle, willing, honest, agile, and bred with conformation and disposition in mind.
- We believe Blazer Horses meet this expectation over and over again.
- We believe that Blazer Horses are a gentle whisper from the history of the American West.
- We believe in yesterday. We honor the horses and the people who got us this far, and we believe their stories deserve to live on.
- We believe that the best horses in our breed haven't been born yet, that our biggest promoters aren't involved yet, and that the future is bright for American Blazer Horses and the equestrians who love them.
- We believe the future is now. Right now. To be a part of this movement means a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to leave a mark, to make history.
- We believe this is no time to think small.
- We believe in stories. Stories help us understand where we've been, who we are, and what we aspire to become. Stories are the best way we know to celebrate this breed and keep building it... one believer at a time
- We believe it's our job to tell those stories.
- Most of all, we believe in tomorrow.
- We believe... no, we know!...that Blazer Horses are special... that this journey is worth it... and that if we stay true to what we believe *together, we can change the world. Because we believe in Blazers.

Written by Brian Harper-Tibaldo 2019

We invite you to learn more about the American Blazer Horse and the registry at our website or speak with one of the Blazer Horse owners-enthusiast in your area.

You can also check us out at <https://www.facebook.com/blazerhorse>

American Blazer Horse Association, Inc.
16114 Idaho Center Blvd. #3
Nampa, ID 83687
Phone: (208) 461-1055
Blazerhorse.com
Or Email:
americanblazerhorses@gmail.com

Our Mission

To help people everywhere discover, enjoy and remember American Blazer Horses!!!

American Blazer Horse Association, Inc.

The American Blazer Horse is bred to be a willing and versatile performer, able to compete on local, regional and national levels with appropriate training.

The breed conformation standards call for a horse that is well balanced, with a extreme sloping shoulder, long hip, refined head with bold eyes, clean neck, short back, strong hooves and plenty of bone for a lifetime of soundness and service.

The Blazer Horse moves freely with easy, ground covering strides that are pleasant and smooth for the rider. Their gentle and willing disposition is also bred into the breed. It is a conformation/disposition breed. A winning combination.